RECREATIONS

PARK

There will be changes of programs in all the theaters of the Honolulu Amusement Company tonight. These are the Park, Empire, Savoy and Bijou. At the Park, where Charles Sprinkle is now house manager, there will be a general change. The lions have been shifted over to the Bijou and their act replaced by Jones & O'Brien, the clever colored team of comedians. They are classy entertainers and keep an audience in a laughable mood. Tonight they put on "Jim Jolly, the Barber." Dolly Grooms, the versatile singer of comic songs, will give a new selection, and will dance. The film portion of the program will be unusually good.

EMPIRE

The Empire feels fortunate in having to present again this week Princess Schell, the subject, whose aerial act and feats of equilibrium have astonished the town. She is the tiniest tight-wire walker, and her exhibition on the slender thread is exceptionally clever. Whittier & Crosson, the vocalists, conclude their engagement on Saturday night, and will therefore be heard only six more nights. Their selection of songs for this week embodies the latest popular songs from the Coast. The management will put on new films, some of which will be of Western scenes. The Empire's cowboy pictures have been classy.

SAVOY

Hessie, the comedy juggler, will finish his long engagement at the Savoy Theater this week, and for tonight and the remainder of the week he will put on a potpourri of his best stunts in ball juggling. As a comedian Hessie has a rare sense of humor. Hilda Carle has chosen for her songs, "Middle Up a Little Closer," "Has Anyone Here a Kiss to Spare," and another popular air. When her throat is better she will sing high-class selections, to which her voice is peculiarly adapted.

BIJOU

One of the principal features on the Bijou program will be Madame Schell and her trained African lions. These beasts, splendid examples of the king of the jungle race, are well trained and do stunts which are remarkable, particularly when it is easily seen that the little woman has to keep her eye on both constantly, as they snarl and at times seem ready to leap upon her. The large stage of the Bijou is better adapted for this show than the smaller one at the Park. The famous Hildagos change their act tonight, and the principal dance will be the "Madrilena." The "Rumba" is another dance typically Spanish which is cleverly executed by Sonorita Hildago.

THEATER BENEFIT FOR CAPTAIN SAM

Saturday afternoon an eight act matinee performance will be put on at the Empire Theatre for the benefit of Captain Sam Mana, the proceeds of the performance going to the old Hawaiian.

The artists who will assist in this performance will be the famous Hildagos, Spanish dancers; Jones & O'Brien, colored comedians; Dolliver and Rogers, the dancing and singing team; Winnie Baldwin, the singer; Hilda Carle, singer; Hessie, the juggler; Dolly Grooms, dancer and singer; Jourdain and Gervaise, operatic singers.

Manager Scully will request Mr. Clark, cashier of Hind, Rolf & Co., Rev. Stephen Desha and George Smithies to act as a committee to handle the financial end of the matter, and take charge of the entire box receipts of the matinee.

NEW THEATER DRAWS CROWD

Hotel street opposite the Independent Theater, which opened Saturday night, was packed with people waiting to get seats. The new show place was packed from seven until half-past eleven and all who attended were satisfied. Besides the other attractions there were four of the best moving pictures, two of stirring adventure in the wild west and on a desert island, and two of rip-roaring mirth. The opening was a grand success and The Independent has entered upon a profitable career. Those who failed to see the new theatrical attraction may make up for it tonight. There are three changes of program every week. It costs only ten cents for an adult and five cents for a child to enjoy the pleasures of The Independent.

STUDENTS MEET IN CONFERENCE

Saturday evening the Chinese Students' Alliance held its fifth annual conference at Mills School, Mid-Pacific Institute, at which Professor Gilmore made the address of the evening.

"The Old and the New" was the subject of the address, and in it the professor gave a vivid story of his own experiences that took place during several years spent in China.

"China does not need specialists at the present time," Professor Gilmore said, "but wants principally trained men with an understanding of affairs of the world and of their own people. The quality and capacity of leadership is the crying need of China today."

The incoming and retiring presidents of the alliance spoke briefly on the work of the association.

The Alliance is represented by members in the following universities and colleges on the mainland: Chicago, Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, California, Stanford, Wisconsin, Valparaiso, St. Louis, Colorado and Oberlin.

It was announced that the following had been elected to honorary membership in the Alliance: Leong Kwo Ying, the Chinese Consul; Tong Kuo, H. H. Heen, Mr. Ai, and Miss Gertrude Whitman, the latter being the only person not a Chinese who belongs to the Alliance.

QUIET REIGNS WITH GOING OF SENATOR

The disappearance of the steamship Senator on Saturday evening at ten minutes to seven o'clock was practically the only development of the case from Saturday until this morning. Frank B. Craig, the chief of the labor recruiters, who is charged with breaking one of the recently-passed emigrant laws, that prohibiting any person from aiding or abetting in enticing labor from the islands, came ashore late Saturday afternoon and gave himself up to the police. A warrant is still out for J. Clark Bell, the San Francisco lawyer, on the same charge, but Bell has gone with the Senator, and the warrant obviously is useless.

It is believed that the Senator took away about 140 emigrants. On Saturday afternoon the number of persons aboard was diminished by one when Attorney Olson went out in a launch and secured a Portuguese boy who had run away from his home.
